Collect of the Day

Celebrant Together we pray.

People O God, the strength of all who put their trust in you: Mercifully accept our prayers; and because in our weakness we can do nothing good without you, give us the help of your grace, that in keeping your commandments we may please you both in will and deed; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

First Lesson: Deuteronomy 30:15-20

Moses said, "See, I have set before you today life and prosperity, death and adversity. If you obey the commandments of the Lord your God that I am commanding you today, by loving the Lord your God, walking in his ways, and observing his commandments, decrees, and ordinances, then you shall live and become numerous, and the Lord your God will bless you in the land that you are entering to possess. But if your heart turns away and you do not hear, but are led astray to bow down to other gods and serve them, I declare to you today that you shall perish; you shall not live long in the land that you are crossing the Jordan to enter and possess. I call heaven and earth to witness against you today that I have set before you life and death, blessings and curses. Choose life so that you and your descendants may live, loving the Lord your God, obeying him, and holding fast to him; for that means life to you and length of days, so that you may live in the land that the Lord swore to give to your ancestors, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob."

Psalm 119:1-8

David Hurd (after Gibbons)

The congregation is encouraged to sing the psalm.

- 1 Happy are those whose way is blameless, *
who walk in the law of the LORD!
- 2 Happy are they who observe his decrees *
and seek him with all their hearts!
- 3 Who never do any wrong, *
but always walk in his ways.
- 4 You laid down your commandments, *
that we should fully keep them.
- 5 Oh, that my ways were made so direct * that I might keep your statutes!

- 6 Then I should not be¹put to¹shame, *
when I re¹gard all¹your com¹mandments.
- 7 I will thank you with an¹unfeigned¹heart, *
when I have¹learned your¹righteous¹judgments.
- 8 I will¹keep your¹statutes; *
—¹do not¹utterly for¹sake me.

Second Lesson: 1 Corinthians 3:1-9

Brothers and sisters, I could not speak to you as spiritual people, but rather as people of the flesh, as infants in Christ. I fed you with milk, not solid food, for you were not ready for solid food. Even now you are still not ready, for you are still of the flesh. For as long as there is jealousy and quarreling among you, are you not of the flesh, and behaving according to human inclinations? For when one says, "I belong to Paul," and another, "I belong to Apollos," are you not merely human?

What then is Apollos? What is Paul? Servants through whom you came to believe, as the Lord assigned to each. I planted, Apollos watered, but God gave the growth. So neither the one who plants nor the one who waters is anything, but only God who gives the growth. The one who plants and the one who waters have a common purpose, and each will receive wages according to the labor of each. For we are God's servants, working together; you are God's field, God's building.

Reader The Word of the Lord.

People Thanks be to God.

Gradual Hymn 635 "If thou but trust in God to guide thee" Wer nur den lieben Gott

Gospel: Matthew 5:21-37

Clergy The Holy Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to Matthew.

People Glory to you, Lord Christ.

Jesus said, "You have heard that it was said to those of ancient times, 'You shall not murder'; and 'whoever murders shall be liable to judgment.' But I say to you that if you are angry with a brother or sister, you will be liable to judgment; and if you insult a brother or sister, you will be liable to the council; and if you say, 'You fool,' you will be liable to the hell of fire. So when you are offering your gift at the altar, if you remember that your brother or sister has something against you, leave your gift there before the altar and go; first be reconciled to your brother or sister, and then come and offer your gift. Come to terms quickly with your accuser while you are on the way to court with him, or your accuser may hand you over to the judge, and the judge to the guard, and you will be thrown into prison. Truly I tell you, you will never get out until you have paid the last penny.

“You have heard that it was said, ‘You shall not commit adultery.’ But I say to you that everyone who looks at a woman with lust has already committed adultery with her in his heart. If your right eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away; it is better for you to lose one of your members than for your whole body to be thrown into hell. And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away; it is better for you to lose one of your members than for your whole body to go into hell.

“It was also said, ‘Whoever divorces his wife, let him give her a certificate of divorce.’ But I say to you that anyone who divorces his wife, except on the ground of unchastity, causes her to commit adultery; and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

“Again, you have heard that it was said to those of ancient times, ‘You shall not swear falsely, but carry out the vows you have made to the Lord.’ But I say to you, Do not swear at all, either by heaven, for it is the throne of God, or by the earth, for it is his footstool, or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. And do not swear by your head, for you cannot make one hair white or black. Let your word be ‘Yes, Yes’ or ‘No, No’; anything more than this comes from the evil one.”

People Praise to you, Lord Christ.

A note on today's anthems

Our Senior Choir anthems this morning are taken from a book published in 1880 by the Boston firm of Houghton, Osgood & Company. It is entitled The Story of the Jubilee Singers. The Jubilee Singers were a group of African American students from Fisk University in Nashville, Tennessee who raised funds by giving concerts here and abroad to help sustain this new college.

About the Readings

From Preparing for Sunday http://standrewswellesley.org/worship_reading.html

Deuteronomy 30:15-20 The book of Deuteronomy is presented as Moses' farewell address to the Israelite people gathered at the border of the promised land. It reinterprets Mosaic instruction (the Jewish Torah or Law) to deal with the situations of later history. This reading comes from Moses' third address (chaps. 29–30) and challenges the people to decide between two ways of living. The format reflects ancient treaties that concluded with a call to the gods to act as witnesses to the treaty. Here the whole created universe is called to witness the covenant (31:28). The people are urged to “choose life,” not merely a prolongation of days but the fullness received in love, obedience and faithfulness to God.

Psalm 119:1-8 This psalm is an acrostic psalm, in which the first line of each of its 22 eight-line stanzas begins with a successive letter of the Hebrew alphabet. It is the longest in the Bible. In this reading, the psalmist describes those who are blessed because of their fidelity to God’s commands and asks God to give wisdom and discernment for keeping them.

1 Corinthians 3:1-9 In addition to adopting party designations (1:12), the Corinthians seem to have enjoyed categorizing one another’s spiritual maturity. Paul informs the Corinthians that they are far from being as spiritually mature (2:6) as they think. Although they have received the Spirit in baptism and are thus implicitly “spiritual,” their strife shows that they are not living out their true status. Instead they are living in the “flesh,” like mere human beings. Flesh, for Paul, is not the opposite of spirit; rather, flesh is what is human, weak, mortal, liable to sin. Far from acting as if their lives were determined by the Spirit, the Corinthians’ parties and labels show that they are determined by individual or human considerations.

Matthew 5:21-37 Today’s and next Sunday’s gospels come from the section called “the six antitheses” (5:21-48), so named from the repeated phrase “it was said...but I say.” Fundamentally, the antitheses are a statement about who Jesus is and what authority he bears (7:28-29). They also illustrate how Jesus fulfills the law (5:17). He does not pit his teaching against the law, but against the rabbinic interpretations and traditions. Jesus reveals the spirit of the law in a new standard of righteousness. These antitheses reach back past the Mosaic law to the original or “creation will” of God. This means that in some cases (murder, adultery, love of enemy) the law has been strengthened; Jesus’ command is “not only...but also.” Attention is shifted from external action to internal intention. In other cases (divorce, oaths, retaliation), the law as practiced is abrogated and external performance is altered.

Notices & Announcements

Newcomers and visitors: We extend a warm welcome to those who are new in our community. Please fill out one of the welcome cards in the narthex (foyer) and hand it to a greeter for a fuller welcome!

New Informal Service

Our first monthly informal Eucharist will be at 5pm tonight. A potluck supper will follow. The impetus for this service is twofold: the first is feedback from the parish survey expressing a desire for an occasional service with a more informal liturgy and music; and the second is to offer a service and potluck supper for families who might be involved in sports or skiing on Sunday mornings.

Over the next four months, we will be experimenting with different formats to find what might work. We hope you will join us as we try out some new ideas alongside our traditional services, which are our main focus.

The services will be at 5pm on Sundays March 19, April 9, and May 7. All are welcome. — Rev. Adrian Robbins-Cole Lenten Program and Potluck: What Do We Believe?

On Wednesday evenings, beginning March 8, we will gather for a potluck supper at 6:30pm, followed by a program from 7 to 7:45pm. Each week during Lent, we will listen to prominent author and New Testament scholar, Dr. Marcus Borg, reflecting on fundamental questions of our Christian faith. After his presentation, we will break up into small groups, each with a facilitator, and discuss the topic of the evening.

Each evening stands as an independent unit, and topics include: Who is God?, What place does Jesus hold in contemporary Christian faith?, What does "salvation" mean?, and How do we practice our beliefs? We might agree with some of Dr. Borg's observations, and disagree with others; his remarks will help us clarify what we believe. We provide the entrée; please bring a salad or a dessert. We hope you can join us for the series Embracing an Adult Faith. — Rev. Margaret Schwarzer • margaret@standrewswellesley.org

Our Sister Parish, St. Stephen's

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church is a vibrant and welcoming faith community in Boston's South End. You may be aware of its extensive youth and teen programming, of which the summer B-SAFE program is one facet.

But did you know they are active in many issues to promote social justice, to advocate for safer neighborhoods, and to reduce income inequality? For example, St. Stephen's is part of a large network that is meeting to discuss being a Sanctuary congregation, in response to fears of increased deportations. Another example: they partner with other groups for a Youth Jobs Coalition Rally to advocate at the state legislature. They invite their partner churches, such as ours, to join them in these, and many other, efforts. Find out more by reading their monthly B-Connected e-newsletter, which is now posted on the outreach bulletin board in the office hallway. The next meeting is Monday, March 6, in the Harvey Room, 7pm. Please bring a small snack or drink to share. The book, A Country Year: Living the Questions by Sue Hubbell, is beautifully written by a woman living in the Ozarks after her husband leaves her. At the age of 50 she has to start over; she does it through bee-keeping, nature (this is a wonderful book if you enjoy walking), and rediscovering herself and the community she lives in.
