Collect of the Day

Celebrant Together we pray.

People Lord of all power and might, the author and giver of all good things: Graft in our hearts the love of your Name; increase in us true religion; nourish us with all goodness; and bring forth in us the fruit of good works; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God for ever and ever. Amen.

First Lesson: Song of Solomon 2:8-13

The voice of my beloved! Look, he comes, leaping upon the mountains, bounding over the hills. My beloved is like a gazelle or a young stag. Look, there he stands behind our wall, gazing in at the windows, looking through the lattice. My beloved speaks and says to me: "Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away; for now the winter is past, the rain is over and gone. The flowers appear on the earth; the time of singing has come, and the voice of the turtle-dove is heard in our land. The fig tree puts forth its figs, and the vines are in blossom; they give forth fragrance. Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away."

Reader      The Word of the Lord.

People      Thanks be to God.

Psalm 45:1-2, 7-10

- 1 My heart is stirring with a noble song;
let me recite what I have fashioned for the king; *
my tongue shall be the pen of a skilled writer.
- 2 You are the fairest of men; *
grace flows from your lips, because God has blessed you for ever.
- 7 Your throne, O God, endures for ever and ever, *
a scepter of righteousness is the scepter of your kingdom;
you love righteousness and hate iniquity.
- 8 Therefore God, your God, has anointed you *
with the oil of gladness above your fellows.
- 9 All your garments are fragrant with myrrh, aloes, and cassia, * and the music of strings from ivory palaces makes you glad.
- 10 Kings' daughters stand among the ladies of the court; * on your right hand is the queen, adorned with the gold of Ophir.

Second Lesson: James 1:17-27

Every generous act of giving, with every perfect gift, is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom there is no variation or shadow due to change. In fulfillment of his own purpose he gave us birth by the word of truth, so that we would become a kind of first fruits of his creatures.

You must understand this, my beloved: let everyone be quick to listen, slow to speak, slow to anger; for your anger does not produce God's righteousness. Therefore rid yourselves of all sordidness and rank growth of wickedness, and welcome with meekness the implanted word that has the power to save your souls.

But be doers of the word, and not merely hearers who deceive themselves. For if any are hearers of the word and not doers, they are like those who look at themselves in a mirror; for they look at themselves and, on-going away, immediately forget what they were like. But those who look into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and persevere, being not hearers who forget but doers who act—they will be blessed in their doing.

If any think they are religious, and do not bridle their tongues but deceive their hearts, their religion is worthless. Religion that is pure and undefiled before God, the Father, is this: to care for orphans and widows in their distress, and to keep oneself unstained by the world.

Reader The Word of the Lord.

People Thanks be to God.

Gradual Hymn 660 "O Master, let me walk with thee"

Maryton

Gospel: Mark 7:1-8, 14-15, 21-23

Clergy The Holy Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to John.

People Glory to you, Lord Christ.

When the Pharisees and some of the scribes who had come from Jerusalem gathered around him, they noticed that some of his disciples were eating with defiled hands, that is, without washing them. For the Pharisees do not eat unless they thoroughly wash their hands, thus observing the tradition of the elders; and they do not eat anything from the market unless they wash it; and there are also many other traditions that they observe, the washing of cups, pots, and bronze kettles. So the Pharisees and the scribes asked him, "Why do your disciples not live according to the tradition of the elders, but eat with defiled hands?" He said to them, "Isaiah prophesied rightly about you hypocrites, as it is written, 'This people honors me with their lips, but their hearts are far from me; in vain do they worship me, teaching human precepts as doctrines.' You abandon the commandment of God and hold to human tradition."

Then he called the crowd again and said to them, "Listen to me, all of you, and understand: there is nothing outside a person that by going in can defile, but the things that come out are what defile." For it is from within, from the human heart, that evil intentions come: fornication, theft, murder, adultery, avarice, wickedness, deceit, licentiousness, envy, slander, pride, folly. All these evil things come from within, and they defile a person."

Clergy The Gospel of the Lord.

People Praise to you, Lord Christ.

About the Readings

From Preparing for Sunday http://standrewswellesley.org/worship\_reading.html

Song of Solomon 2:8-13 This love song, attributed to King Solomon, describes the passionate love of a man and a woman and their yearning for union. But since it is included in the Bible, the lyrical poetry of their relationship also describes God's passionate love for the people of the covenant and for us. In today's reading, amidst the vibrant springtime imagery, the woman anticipates the excitement of meeting with her beloved and pictures his approach until she can hear his voice inviting her to fly away with him.

Psalms 45:1-2, 7-10 This psalm celebrates the royal wedding of the Davidic king with a princess from Tyre in Phoenicia. First the psalmist praises the king (verses 1-10), who has been chosen and anointed by God to establish justice and so receive the perks of kingship, including his new wife. In verses 11-16, he encourages the princess to enjoy her new status as the king's wife, with all the splendid clothes and riches that now will characterize her royal lifestyle.

James 1:17-27 For the next few weeks, the second reading is taken from the letter of James. This sermonlike letter, addressed to the Church in general, consists primarily of loosely organized ethical advice of a sort common to Jewish and Christian writings. Its basis is halakah (literally "walking"), the Jewish word for practical guidelines for walking in God's way. James appeals to the understanding of God's will shared by both early Christians and Jews. The author addresses those who have been given "birth by the word of truth" (v. 18) a phrase that could be used equally of humankind as the first fruit of the creation (Genesis 1) and of Christians as the first fruits of redeemed humanity. This implanted word brings salvation, but one must do it as well as hear it. The image of a mirror, which in those times gave an indistinct reflection, is used for the forgetful hearer. The one who both hears and acts discovers the true self in "the perfect law" (v. 25) of Jesus' teachings. True religion involves not only belief but also practical behavior expressing social responsibility (Exodus 22:22; Matthew 25:31-46; 1 John 4:20) and moral uprightness (1 John 2:15-17).

Mark 7:1-8, 14-15, 21-23 The selection from the sayings on defilement (7:1-23) that constitutes today's gospel raises the question of the relationship between "the commandment of God" and "the tradition of the elders" and of the real meaning of cleanness and defilement, issues of vital interest to the early Church. All three sections concern ritual purity: the first centering on washing (7:1-8), the second and third on food (7:14-15, 21-23). Various regulations had been established in the Mosaic code to ensure the ceremonial cleanness of priest and people, for defilement rendered one unfit to participate in the community worship. The "tradition of the elders" was the body of interpretive comment on the law of Moses accumulated as people tried to apply the law to new situations. It was passed down in oral form and only first written down about A.D. 200. The issue of eating foods held unclean by the Mosaic law actually involved a point of the written law, not the oral tradition. Not observing dietary restrictions meant invalidating sections of the Old Testament scriptures. This matter was hotly contested in the early years of the Church, especially in the Gentile churches for which Mark wrote (Romans 14; 1 Corinthians 8). Mark takes pains to insert an explanation of Jewish practice for them and to make clear the implication of Jesus' saying (7:19b). The final verses (7:17-23) may all have been shaped by the controversy in the early Church—it is difficult to account for the disputes at Jerusalem (Acts 15:5-21) and Antioch (Galatians 2:11-16) if Jesus' words were so unambiguous. In general Jesus seems to have set aside the demands of the law (e.g., Sabbath observance) in response to particular situations of human need. Freedom for the Church from the dietary code opened the way for the mission to the Gentiles (Acts 10).

“Refreshing” the Parish Prayer List

Praying for our loved ones at times of need is a central part of our worship and church life. We would like to remind you that at the beginning of every month, we “refresh” the prayer list. We remove names of people for whom we have been asked to pray if we have not heard that you wish us to keep your loved one on the list for the next month. We are happy to keep people on the list for as long as they are in need of our prayers. However, our proactive approach helps prevent a buildup of people on the list after the need for our prayers for that person has passed. Thanks for your help with this.

— Rev. Adrian Robbins-Cole

Social Media

St. Andrew's has been using social media for a while. We have an Instagram and a Twitter account both at the same address:

Join the Altar Guild

We happily welcome any member of the church who would be interested in joining us “doing God's dishes” or “setting the props for the show.” The time commitment is low (generally one service a month), but the rewards (and fellowship) are great. New members work alongside experienced members as they train, and there is much flexibility to work around your schedule. # Gratitude

Well wishes and thanks!

This picture represents a fraction of the cards I received while recuperating from my recent health scare. Almost every day over the course of the past several weeks I received cards and notes plus a ton of emails and texts wishing me a speedy recovery. Gifts of ice cream or books, some of which were personally delivered to my house, accompanied many of these cards. Sending these notes may seem like a small thing, but the thoughts and prayers expressed in them were a big deal and contributed to a faster recovery for me. The support network at St. Andrew's is amazing and I feel grateful to belong to such a caring community. I am not out of the woods yet but am feeling stronger and closer to 100% every day. I look forward to resuming my normal routines and seeing all of you very soon.

With gratitude, Michael Vanin
