Collect of the Day

Celebrant Together we pray.

People O God, whose blessed Son came into the world that he might destroy the works of the devil and make us children of God and heirs of eternal life: Grant that, having this hope, we may purify ourselves as he is pure; that, when he comes again with power and great glory, we may be made like him in his eternal and glorious kingdom; where he lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

First Lesson: Ruth 3:1-5; 4:13-17

Naomi her mother-in-law said to Ruth,
"My daughter, I need to seek some security
for you, so that it may be well with you.
Now here is our kinsman Boaz, with whose young women you have been working. See, he is winnowing barley tonight at the threshing floor. Now wash and anoint yourself, and put on your best clothes and go down to the threshing floor; but do not make yourself known to the man until he has finished eating and drinking. When he lies down, observe the place where he lies; then, go and uncover his feet and lie down; and he will tell you what to do." She said to her, "All that you tell me I will do."

So Boaz took Ruth and she became his wife. When they came together, the Lord made her conceive, and she bore a son. Then the women said to Naomi, "Blessed be the Lord, who has not left you this day without next-of-kin; and may his name be renowned in Israel! He shall be to you a restorer of life and a nourisher of your old age; for your daughter-in-law who loves you, who is more to you than seven sons, has borne him." Then Naomi took the child and laid him in her bosom, and became his nurse. The women of the neighborhood gave him a name, saying, "A son has been born to Naomi." They named him Obed; he became the father of Jesse, the father of David.

Psalm 127

John Goss

The congregation is encouraged to sing the psalm.

- 1 Unless the LORD¹ builds the¹ house, *
their¹ labor is in¹ vain who¹ build it.
- 2 Unless the LORD watches¹ over the¹ city, *
in vain the¹ watchman¹ keeps his¹ vigil.
- 3 It is in vain that you rise so early and go to¹ bed so¹ late; *
vain, too, to eat the bread of toil,
for he gives to¹ his be¹ lovèd¹ sleep.
- 4 Children are a¹ heritage from the¹ LORD, *
and the¹ fruit of the¹ womb is a¹ gift.
- 5 Like arrows in the¹ hand of a¹ warrior * are the¹ children of¹ oñe's¹ youth.
- 6 Happy is the man who has his¹ quiver¹ full of them! *
he shall not be put to shame
when he contends with his¹ enemies¹ in the¹ gate.

Second Lesson: Hebrews 9:24-28

Christ did not enter a sanctuary made by human hands, a mere copy of the true one, but he entered into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God on our behalf. Nor was it to offer himself again and again, as the high priest enters the Holy Place year after year with blood that is not his own; for then he would have had to suffer again and again since the foundation of the world. But as it is, he has appeared once for all at the end of the age to remove sin by the sacrifice of himself. And just as it is appointed for mortals to die once, and after that the judgment, so Christ, having been offered once to bear the sins of many, will appear a second time, not to deal with sin, but to save those who are eagerly waiting for him.

Gospel: Mark 12:38-44

Clergy The Holy Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to Mark.

People Glory to you, Lord Christ.

As Jesus taught, he said, "Beware of the scribes, who like to walk around in long robes, and to be greeted with respect in the marketplaces, and to have the best seats in the synagogues and places of honor at banquets! They devour widows' houses and for the sake of appearance say long prayers. They will receive the greater condemnation."

He sat down opposite the treasury, and watched the crowd putting money into the treasury. Many rich people put in large sums. A poor widow came and put in two small copper coins, which are worth a penny. Then he called his disciples and said to them, "Truly I tell you, this poor widow has put in more than all those who are contributing to the treasury. For all of them have contributed out of their abundance; but she out of her poverty has put in everything she had, all she had to live on."

People Praise to you, Lord Christ.

About the Readings

From Preparing for Sunday http://standrewswellesley.org/worship_reading.html

Ruth 3:1-5; 4:13-17 Despite being a foreigner in Israel, Ruth's faithfulness to her mother-in-law Naomi demonstrates that belonging to God's kingdom is granted, not on the basis of ancestry, but on that of devotion to God. In the first part of today's reading, Naomi responds to Ruth's fidelity by desiring to find a husband for her, specifically her kinsman Boaz. So she hatches a scheme that will bring Ruth and Boaz together. The second part of the reading describes the happy ending as Ruth and Boaz marry and conceive a son who is named Obed. The elders of the village offer their blessings and recognize Ruth's value to Naomi. The author ends by affirming her importance to the covenant people for her great-grandson will be King David.

Psalms 127 This psalm reflects on two proverbs (1-2 and 3-5) praising God's work in establishing households and families. Human groups do not simply prosper by our human efforts, but require the gift of God for continued life and happiness.

Hebrews 9:24-28 This reading stresses the superiority of Jesus' sacrificial work to that of the Jewish high priest's. Jesus' work excels the other work by where, when and how it takes place. It is presented in the presence of God, not in an earthly temple. It is not made repeatedly but "once for all at the end of the age" (v. 26). His offering is definitive and unique, as final as death. And his offering is himself, not the "blood of goats and calves" (9:12). His continuing work is not a continual self-offering but the continual representation of and intercession for humanity.

Mark 12:38-44 This reading ends the series of Jerusalem controversy stories that conclude Jesus' public teaching. Although Jesus related positively to some scribes or scripture scholars, today's sayings indicate his inevitable breach with their general approach. This reaction was especially significant in the light of the clash of the early Church with a Judaism grown defensive after the fall of the temple.

Hypocrisy and oppression among the scribes will “receive the greater condemnation” (v. 40) since they should know better. The sayings are linked to the story following—that of the widow and her gift—by the word widow (vv. 40, 42).

Her self-giving is also a comment on the self-serving of the scribes. The widow gives out of her need rather than out of her surplus, offering her emptiness to God—an emptiness that indicates her capacity to be filled.

Firearm Safety Task Force

Did You Know: Massachusetts has a legal mechanism for dealing with persons whose behavior indicates their access to firearms poses a threat to their own safety or that of others. The “red flag” law authorizes a district court judge to order surrender of firearms if, after hearing the evidence, he or she finds that there is a serious risk to public safety. Forms for requesting court intervention are available on line or at any district court. For more see www.mass.gov/extreme-risk-protection-orders. Wellesley is covered by Dedham District Court.

Parishioners here are meeting regularly to discuss responses to the tragically ongoing killings by firearms around our country. If you would like to receive emails reporting on the task force’s work and possible activities, please send an e-mail to Paul Merry • paul.merry@fairworkplace.net or Jane Andrews • jmlandrews@gmail.com

Sox Box

Twice a year, in June and November, for over 10 years, St. Andrew's parishioners have generously provided socks for homeless women and their families. Since 2007 we have donated 8,453 pairs of socks! As we step towards the cold and wet of winter, we have the option of warm and weather resistant boots. Our marginalized citizens do not. Hence, changing socks and washing and drying them at the shelters becomes paramount. Please be a part of this vital outreach endeavor as it is one small way for each of us to make a difference in the lives of those less fortunate than we. Feed the "Sox Box" outside the library with men's white crew socks, size L or XL or send a check to St. Andrew's with "Sox" in the memo line. Thank you for your continuing generosity.

B-READY Meals

Many thanks to the wonderful volunteers who made a meal for B-READY at St. Stephen's. These willing helpers and cooks made a terrific hot meal on Sunday, November 4 and delivered it: Christine Beach, Heidi Harper, Ansley Martin, Elizabeth Martin, Debbie Osborn, and Karen Pekowitz. St. Stephen's youth programs are very grateful!

Diocesan Convention Delegates

Thank you to Paige Manning and Mary Scanlon who were the lay delegates representing St. Andrew's at the Diocesan Convention last Saturday, November 3. They accompanied the clergy to the daylong annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts. At the convention, the Bishop outlined the progress of the diocesan strategic plan and the diocesan budget was approved.

Newcomers' Brunch

Many thanks to Suzanne Nystrom and her membership committee team for hosting a wonderful Newcomers' Brunch last Sunday. The brunches are a great opportunity for newcomers to make personal connections with existing members and other newcomers, and to learn more about our parish's programs and ministries. It was a lovely and lively occasion with new members, new families, and a new student from Wellesley College all enjoying a meal together. Our dessert included sugar cookies and chocolate chip cookies baked by children from our congregation and some delicious shortbread.
