Collect of the Day

Celebrant Let us pray.

People Almighty Father, whose dear Son, on the night before he suffered, instituted the Sacrament of his Body and Blood: Mercifully grant that we may receive it thankfully in remembrance of Jesus Christ our Lord, who in these holy mysteries gives us a pledge of eternal life; and who now lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

Reading: Exodus 12:1-14a

The Lord said to Moses and Aaron in the land of Egypt: This month shall mark for you the beginning of months; it shall be the first month of the year for you. Tell the whole congregation of Israel that on the tenth of this month they are to take a lamb for each family, a lamb for each household. If a household is too small for a whole lamb, it shall join its closest neighbor in obtaining one; the lamb shall be divided in proportion to the number of people who eat of it. Your lamb shall be without blemish, a year-old male; you may take it from the sheep or from the goats. You shall keep it until the fourteenth day of this month; then the whole

- 14 O LORD, I am your servant; *
I am your servant and the child of your handmaid;
you have freed me from my bonds.
- 15 I will offer you the sacrifice of thanksgiving *
and call upon the Name of the LORD.
- 16 I will fulfill my vows to the LORD *
in the presence of all his people,
- † 17 In the courts of the LORD's house, *
in the midst of you, O Jerusalem.
Hallelujah!

Epistle: 1 Corinthians 11:23-26

For I received from the Lord what I also handed on to you, that the Lord Jesus on the night when he was betrayed took a loaf of bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it and said, "This is my body that is for you. Do this in remembrance of me." In the same way he took the cup also, after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me." For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes.

Gospel: John 13:1-17, 31b-35

Reader The Holy Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to John.

People Glory to you, Lord Christ.

Now before the festival of the Passover, Jesus knew that his hour had come to depart from this world and go to the Father. Having loved his own who were in the world, he loved them to the end. The devil had already put it into the heart of Judas, son of Simon Iscariot, to betray him. And during supper Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he had come from God and was going to God, got up from the table, took off his outer robe, and tied a towel around himself. Then he poured water into a basin and began to wash the disciples' feet and to wipe them with the towel that was tied around him. He came to Simon Peter, who said to him, "Lord, are you going to wash my feet?" Jesus answered, "You do not know now what I am doing, but later you will understand." Peter said to him, "You will never wash my feet." Jesus answered, "Unless I wash you, you have no share with me.” Simon Peter said to him, “Lord, not my feet only but also my hands and my head!” Jesus said to him, “One who has bathed does not need to wash, except for the feet, but is entirely clean. And you are clean, though not all of you.” For he knew who was to betray him; for this reason he said, “Not all of you are clean.” After he had washed their feet, had put on his robe, and had returned to the table, he said to them, “Do you know what I have done to you? You call me Teacher and Lord—and you are right, for that is what I am. So if I, your Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another’s feet. For I have set you an example, that you also should do as I have done to you. Very truly, I tell you, servants are not greater than their master, nor are messengers greater than the one who sent them. If you know these things, you are blessed if you do them. Jesus said, “Now the Son of Man has been glorified, and God has been glorified in him. If God has been glorified in him, God will also glorify him in himself and will glorify him at once. Little children, I am with you only a little longer. You will look for me; and as I said to the Jews so now I say to you, ‘Where I am going, you cannot come.’ I give you a new commandment, that you love one another. Just as I have loved you, you also should love one another. By this everyone will know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another.”

The Footwashing

Antiphon

Peace is my last gift to you, my own peace I now leave with you; peace which the world can - not give, I give to you.

The image shows two staves of musical notation in G-clef. The first staff contains the melody for the first line of text, and the second staff contains the melody for the second line. The notes are simple, with some slurs and a fermata over the final note of the second line.

The Lord Jesus, after he had supped with his disciples and had washed their feet, said to them: “Do you know what I, your Lord and Master, have done for you? I have given you an example, that you should do as I have done.”

Antiphon

“I give you a new commandment: Love one another as I have loved you.”

Antiphon

“By this shall the world know that you are my disciples: That you have love for one another.”

The congregation is invited to follow the choir and clergy in the procession to the transept chapel. When the hymn has been sung, Matthew 26:30-46 is read. After the reading, the congregation may leave silently or remain in silent prayer in the chapel.

About Maundy Thursday

A service of Holy Eucharist on the Thursday before the Easter Vigil was held as early as the fourth century. An evening celebration of Holy Eucharist spread throughout the church under the name "Cena Domini" (Supper of the Lord), commemorating the Last Supper and the institution of the Eucharist. From earliest liturgies, we know that John 13:1-15 was a traditional reading.

As early as the seventh century, the day came to be known as Maundy Thursday, for the word Mandatum, referring to the Lord's "Commandment" in the Gospel: "A new commandment I give you, that you love one another even as I have loved you." Christian churches throughout the world have restored this ceremonial foot-washing to the Maundy Thursday liturgy as a way of lifting up our corporate call to service in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. It is recorded that in 1560 Queen Elizabeth "kept her Maundy" in Westminster's great hall by washing the feet of twenty poor women.
