Glory to you, Lord God of our fathers; you are worthy of praise; glory to you.

Glory to you for the radiance of your holy Name; we will praise you and highly exalt you forever.

Glory to you in the splendor of your temple; on the throne of your majesty, glory to you.

Glory to you, seated between the Cherubim; we will praise you and highly exalt you forever.

Glory to you, beholding the depths; in the high vault of heaven, glory to you.

Glory to you, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit; we will praise you and highly exalt you forever.

Collect of the Day

Celebrant Together we pray.

People Blessed Lord, who caused all holy Scriptures to be written for our learning: Grant us so to hear them, read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest them, that we may embrace and ever hold fast the blessed hope of everlasting life, which you have given us in our Savior Jesus Christ; who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

First Lesson: Isaiah 65:17-25

For I am about to create new heavens and a new earth; the former things shall not be remembered or come to mind. But be glad and rejoice forever in what I am creating; for I am about to create Jerusalem as a joy, and its people as a delight. I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and delight in my people; no more shall the sound of weeping be heard in it, or the cry of distress. No more shall there be in it an infant that lives but a few days, or an old person who does not live out a lifetime; for one who dies at a hundred years will be considered a youth, and one who falls short of a hundred will be considered accursed. They shall build houses and inhabit them; they shall plant vineyards and eat their fruit. They shall not build and another inhabit; they shall not plant and another eat; for like the days of a tree shall the days of my people be, and my chosen shall long enjoy the work of their hands. They shall not labor in vain, or bear children for calamity; for they shall be offspring blessed by the Lord—and their descendants as well. Before they call I will answer, while they are yet speaking I will hear. The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, the lion shall eat straw like the ox; but the serpent—its food shall be dust! They shall not hurt or destroy on all my holy mountain, says the Lord.

Reader        The Word of the Lord.

People        Thanks be to God.

Canticle 9

William Best

The congregation is encouraged to sing the psalm.

- 1    Surely, it is <sup>1</sup>God who <sup>1</sup>saves me; *
      I will trust in <sup>1</sup>him and <sup>1</sup>not be a <sup>1</sup>fraid.
- 2    For the Lord is my stronghold and my <sup>1</sup>sure de<sup>1</sup>fense, * and <sup>1</sup>he will <sup>1</sup>be my <sup>1</sup>Savior.
- 3    Therefore you shall draw <sup>1</sup>water with re<sup>1</sup>joicing *
      — <sup>1</sup>from the <sup>1</sup>springs of sal<sup>1</sup>vation.
- 4    And on that <sup>1</sup>day you shall <sup>1</sup>say, *

- †5 Make his deeds known a<sup>1</sup>mong the<sup>1</sup> peoples; *
 see that they re<sup>1</sup>member that his<sup>1</sup> Name is ex<sup>1</sup>alted.
- 6 Sing the praises of the Lord, for<sup>1</sup> he has done<sup>1</sup> great things, * and this is<sup>1</sup> known in<sup>1</sup> all the<sup>1</sup> world.
- 7 Cry aloud, inhabitants of Zion, <sup>1</sup>ring out your<sup>1</sup> joy, *

Second Lesson: 2 Thessalonians 3:6-13

Now we command you, beloved, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, to keep away from believers who are living in idleness and not according to the tradition that they received from us. For you yourselves know how you ought to imitate us; we were not idle when we were with you, and we did not eat anyone's bread without paying for it; but with toil and labor we worked night and day, so that we might not burden any of you. This was not because we do not have that right, but in order to give you an example to imitate. For even when we were with you, we gave you this command: Anyone unwilling to work should not eat. For we hear that some of you are living in idleness, mere busybodies, not doing any work. Now such persons we command and exhort in the Lord Jesus Christ to do their work quietly and to earn their own living. Brothers and sisters, do not be weary in doing what is right.

Reader The Word of the Lord.

People Thanks be to God.

Gradual Hymn 679 "Surely it is God who saves me"

Thomas Merton

Gospel: Luke 21:5-8, 13-19

Clergy The Holy Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to Luke.

People Glory to you, Lord Christ.

When some were speaking about the temple, how it was adorned with beautiful stones and gifts dedicated to God, Jesus said, "As for these things that you see, the days will come when not one stone will be left upon another; all will be thrown down."

They asked him, "Teacher, when will this be, and what will be the sign that this is about to take place?" And he said, "Beware that you are not led astray; for many will come in my name and say, 'I am he!' and, 'The time is near!' Do not go after them.

"But before all this occurs, they will arrest you and persecute you; they will hand you over to synagogues and prisons, and you will be brought before kings and governors because of my name. This will give you an opportunity to testify. So make up your minds not to prepare your defense in advance; for I will give you words and a wisdom that none of your opponents will be able to withstand or contradict. You will be betrayed even by parents and brothers, by relatives and friends; and they will put some of you to death. You will be hated by all because of my name. But not a hair of your head will perish. By your endurance you will gain your souls."

Clergy The Gospel of the Lord.

People Praise to you, Lord Christ.

About the Readings

From Preparing for Sunday http://standrewswellesley.org/worship\_reading.html

Isaiah 65:17-25 In chapter 65, God responds to the psalm of intercession in 63:7–64:12. Today’s reading, the last three stanzas of God’s reply, builds on the historical act of redemption proclaimed in 40:1-11 and expands it into a promise of a new creation. The Old Testament descriptions of the age to come reveal the new world as a restoration of God’s original purpose in creation. The reference to life expectancy (v. 20) designates more than a promise of longevity. The elimination of sorrow, impossible when death remains, and the earlier promise that God “will swallow up death forever” (25:7) seem to suggest a return to the Eden-like conditions before the fall, when the tree of life was accessible and granted immortality. Adam’s experience of futility in labor, also a result of the fall, will vanish.

Canticle 9 (Isaiah 12:2-6) Isaiah expresses his deep confidence that God’s anger will be transformed into comfort. This change invites Isaiah to draw near to God in thanksgiving and joy.

2 Thessalonians 3:6-13 The problem of idleness in the Thessalonian church had also been noted in 1 Thessalonians 5:14. It may have been a reaction to the expectation of an imminent end to human affairs, or a consequence of the belief that “the day of the Lord is already here” (2:2). But such idleness was a misunderstanding of mutual support in a community largely composed of the poor. Paul reminds them both of the tradition he taught them (perhaps the statement in v. 10) and of his own example. The idle, whom Paul describes in a wordplay as “busybodies” instead of “busy,” are exhorted to earn their own living, while the community is encouraged to persevere in well-doing.

Luke 21: 5-8, 13-19 To a question about his prediction of the temple’s destruction, Jesus responds with a series of sayings. The disciples will be imprisoned. They are not to prepare a “defense in advance” (v. 14, literally, practice gestures, as a professional Greek speaker would), for the Lord will guide them. Despite betrayal by family and friends, they will win eternal life through endurance.

Stewardship: Commitment Sunday, November 13

You should have in hand your Stewardship 2017 packet, including a brochure and other informative materials along with your pledge card. Please examine them carefully, be as generous as you can, and return your pledge card (or pledge online) TODAY! Thank you.

We are pleased to announce that Michelle Chalmers, president of the World of Wellesley, an organization that works to make Wellesley welcoming to people of diverse backgrounds, will join us for a forum on the issue of race, how we can work to improve relations between races, and how we can become more aware of how racism affects our daily lives. ## Thanksgiving: Faith in Action

As our minds turn towards the Thanksgiving holiday, the St. Andrew's outreach committee invites you to show your thanksgiving in a practical way—putting your faith into action—by supporting two of the parish's major outreach partners who help local people in need: the Wellesley Food Pantry and Health Care Without Walls.

One way you can help is by purchasing men's white athletic socks, size L or XL, which will be given to homeless people with diabetes by Health Care Without Walls. Another way you can help is to purchase items for the Wellesley Food Pantry. They have provided us with a short list of much-needed items: coffee, sardines, beef stew, vegetable oil, canned salmon, and canned pineapple, as well as laundry detergent, diapers, and feminine care items (these items can't be purchased with food stamps and are always in demand).

During the month of November, we ask you to show your thanksgiving by purchasing these items and bringing them to the church on Sunday. There will be two special baskets at the back of the church where your gifts can be left—one marked "Sox Box" and the other "Wellesley Food Pantry." Every Sunday during November, we will have a special prayer of thanks at the offertory for these gifts. — Rev. Adrian Robbins-Cole

Bring a Friend to Church on St Andrew's Day!

This will be a wonderful occasion to give your friends a glimpse into the life of our lively parish. They will be able to experience being piped into church by the bagpiper, other fantastic music, and then the traditional shortbread at refreshments after the service. It is a perfect way to introduce your friends to St. Andrew's! — Rev. Adrian Robbins-Cole
