Collect of the Day

Celebrant Together we pray.

People Lord of all power and might, the author and giver of all good things: Graft in our hearts the love of your Name; increase in us true religion; nourish us with all goodness; and bring forth in us the fruit of good works; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God for ever and ever. Amen.

First Lesson: Exodus 3:1-15

Moses was keeping the flock of his father-in-law Jethro, the priest of Midian; he led his flock beyond the wilderness, and came to Horeb, the mountain of God. There the angel of the Lord appeared to him in a flame of fire out of a bush; he looked, and the bush was blazing, yet it was not consumed. Then Moses said, "I must turn aside and look at this great sight, and see why the bush is not burned up." When the Lord saw that he had turned aside to see, God called to him out of the bush, "Moses, Moses!" And he said, "Here I am." Then he said, "Come no closer! Remove the sandals from your feet, for the place on which you are standing is holy ground." He said further, "I am the God of your father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob." And Moses hid his face, for he was afraid to look at God.

Then the Lord said, "I have observed the misery of my people who are in Egypt; I have heard their cry on account of their taskmasters. Indeed, I know their sufferings, and I have come down to deliver them from the Egyptians, and to bring them up out of that land to a good and broad land, a land flowing with milk and honey, to the country of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites. The cry of the Israelites has now come to me; I have also seen how the Egyptians oppress them. So come, I will send you to Pharaoh to bring my people, the Israelites, out of Egypt."

But Moses said to God, "Who am I that I should go to Pharaoh, and bring the Israelites out of Egypt?" He said, "I will be with you; and this shall be the sign for you that it is I who sent you: when you have brought the people out of Egypt, you shall worship God on this mountain." But Moses said to God, "If I come to the Israelites and say to them, 'The God of your ancestors has sent me to you,' and they ask me, 'What is his name?' what shall I say to them?" God said to Moses, "I AM WHO I AM." He said further, "Thus you shall say to the Israelites, 'I AM has sent me to you.'" God also said to Moses, "Thus you shall say to the Israelites, 'The Lord, the God of your ancestors, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, has sent me to you': This is my name forever, and this my title for all generations."

People Thanks be to God.

Psalm 105:1-6, 23-26, 45c

- 1 Give thanks to the Lord and call upon his Name; *
make known his deeds among the peoples.
- 2 Sing to him, sing praises to him, *
and speak of all his marvelous works.

- 3 Glory in his holy Name; *
let the hearts of those who seek the Lord rejoice.
- 4 Search for the Lord and his strength; *
continually seek his face.
- 5 Remember the marvels he has done, *
his wonders and the judgments of his mouth,
- 6 O offspring of Abraham his servant, *
O children of Jacob his chosen.
- 23 Israel came into Egypt, *
and Jacob became a sojourner in the land of Ham.
- 24 The Lord made his people exceedingly fruitful; *
he made them stronger than their enemies;
- 25 Whose heart he turned, so that they hated his people, *
and dealt unjustly with his servants.
- 26 He sent Moses his servant, *
and Aaron whom he had chosen.
- 45 Hallelujah!

Second Lesson: Romans 12:9-21

Let love be genuine; hate what is evil, hold fast to what is good; love one another with mutual affection; outdo one another in showing honor. Do not lag in zeal, be ardent in spirit, serve the Lord. Rejoice in hope, be patient in suffering, persevere in prayer. Contribute to the needs of the saints; extend hospitality to strangers.

Bless those who persecute you; bless and do not curse them. Rejoice with those who rejoice, weep with those who weep. Live in harmony with one another; do not be haughty, but associate with the lowly; do not claim to be wiser than you are. Do not repay anyone evil for evil, but take thought for what is noble in the sight of all. If it is possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all. Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave room for the wrath of God; for it is written, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord." No, "if your enemies are hungry, feed them; if they are thirsty, give them something to drink; for by doing this you will heap burning coals on their heads." Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.

Reader The Word of the Lord.

People Thanks be to God.

Gradual Hymn 484 "Praise the Lord through every nation"

Wachet auf

Gospel: Matthew 16:21-28

Clergy The Holy Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to Matthew.

People Glory to you, Lord Christ.

Jesus began to show his disciples that he must go to Jerusalem and undergo great suffering at the hands of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and on the third day be raised. And Peter took him aside and began to rebuke him, saying, "God forbid it, Lord! This must never happen to you." But he turned and said to Peter, "Get behind me, Satan! You are a stumbling block to me; for you are setting your mind not on divine things but on human things."

Then Jesus told his disciples, "If any want to become my followers, let them deny themselves and take up their cross and follow me. For those who want to save their life will lose it, and those who lose their life for my sake will find it. For what will it profit them if they gain the whole world but forfeit their life? Or what will they give in return for their life?

"For the Son of Man is to come with his angels in the glory of his Father, and then he will repay everyone for what has been done. Truly I tell you, there are some standing here who will not taste death before they see the Son of Man coming in his kingdom."

About the Readings

From Preparing for Sunday http://standrewswellesley.org/worship_reading.html

Exodus 3:1-15 This passage records Moses' life-changing encounter with God. Here God's name and character are revealed as Moses is commissioned as God's agent. The fiery bush signifies God's presence and activity. In response to God's presence, Moses hides his face, for in Hebrew thought it was fatal to see the Lord directly. God is revealed as the transcendent Other who chooses to be in a relationship of commitment and even intimacy with God's people. God is One who sees, hears, knows and has come down to deliver. God's transcendent holiness does not preclude divine immanence and compassion. God sums up the mysterious, divine character by revealing it in a personal name, YHWH. As a form of "to be" it can be understood as present ("I AM"), future ("I WILL BE [with you]") or the causative ("I CAUSE [things] TO BE"). When speaking, God says simply "I AM." When speaking of God, we use this verb form as God's proper name. This suggests a dynamic and outgoing concept of God, reflecting God's activity in history rather than simply describing God's eternal being as self-contained and changeless.

Psalm 105:1-6, 23-26, 45c This hymn praises God who promised the land of Canaan to the covenant people and then kept the promise. The people are invited to praise God and seek God's presence (vv. 1-6) The whole story of the land—from the original promise to Abraham (vv. 7-11), to the ancestors in Canaan (vv. 12-15), Joseph in Egypt (vv. 16-22), Israel in Egypt (vv. 23-38) and Israel in the wilderness (vv. 39-45)—reveals how faithful God always was to the original promise.

Romans 12:9-21 In the preceding passage (12:3-8), Paul delineated the diversity of roles and tasks within the Christian community. The standards he sets forth in today's reading should prevail regardless of each member's "function" (12:4). Love for one another must be without hypocrisy, characterized by humility, generosity and sympathy. Christians should earn a reputation for meekness, moral uprightness, peacefulness and patience. They should recoil with loathing from evil and embrace all that is good. Their passion for prayer and service should not diminish over time, but continue to result in blessing and a willingness to give themselves in humility to whatever tasks God presents. Revenge belongs to God alone. In verse 20, Paul quotes Proverbs 25:21-22 to illustrate the overcoming power of kindness. Such acts of goodness may or may not lead to the enemy's repentance, but they have an intrinsic power that is stronger than evil and will, finally, prevail.

Matthew 16:21-28 Jesus responds to Peter's confession (16:16) by foretelling his own passion and by teaching on discipleship. Matthew emphasizes that Jesus' death and resurrection are part of God's plan—indicated by the word "must"—in fulfillment of the scriptures (26:54). The anticipation of suffering and death was totally at odds with what was expected for and of the Messiah. Peter expresses this, once again speaking as the disciples' representative. Matthew makes Peter's response more vivid than Mark did by putting it into direct speech (Mark 8:32). Jesus responds to Peter's rebuke as a continuation of Satan's temptations in the wilderness (4:10). As Peter has been called the rock of foundation for the Church (16:18), so here he is a "stumbling block" (Greek, skandalon) because he has his mind set on human goals and priorities. There is another side to the promise of 16:17-19. Jesus teaches the disciples that, as suffering is the price of messiahship, so it is also the cost of discipleship. The disciples must "deny themselves"—renounce all human things that keep them from following the example of Jesus. The word "life" (Greek, psyche) means also "self." To save one's life/self in the world's terms is to lose it in God's and vice versa. The disciple must choose again and again between Satan's offer (4:8-9) and Jesus' (5:3-12).
