

CELEBRATING 125 YEARS

ST. ANDREW'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

History from our Archives

The senior high youth group will volunteer at the Nobscot State Reservation in Sudbury, to help clean and treat trails for public use. The group will depart from 79 Denton Rd. at 10am and return to the same location at 4pm Remember to bring a bag lunch, protective footwear, and work gloves. 2003

The sixth grade is raising money to donate to the shelter for runaway and neglected adolescents sponsored by the Home for Little Wanderers. During coffee hour we will be selling hand-crafted Christmas essentials. Come and support this worthy project and complete your holiday shopping. We have a large selection of one-of-a-kind hand-made gift tags, gift bags, table favors, bookmarks, and ornaments. 2003

Be part of the first parish-wide retreat at the Barbara C. Harris Camp and Conference Center, June 11–12. The retreat offers us a chance for outdoor and waterfront activities, rest and relaxation, personal prayer and community worship, activities for teens, adults, kids and families, delicious meals and beautiful accommodations. Bring your fishing gear, your bikes, your Bibles, and your sunscreen! Stay tuned for information on how to register. 2004

A parish survey was undertaken this spring, to help inform the long-range planning that the vestry is undertaking throughout 2005. The ages of respondents ranged from the teens to the nineties. Over three-fifths of those responding were women. About a fifth of those surveyed have been at St. Andrew's for five years or less, while 45% have more than 15 years' association with the parish. A little more than half of the respondents grew up in the Episcopal (or another Anglican) church. We have also drawn members with (in order of incidence) Roman Catholic, Presbyterian, Methodist, Congregational, Lutheran, and other church backgrounds. Three-quarters of the sample have belonged other Episcopal churches.

At our annual celebration of the Feast of St. Francis and Blessing of the Animals we collected $500 for the ASCPA which will be directed toward relief of animals affected by hurricanes in the Gulf Coast region. Many thanks for supporting this worthy ministry!
2005

The senior high youth group will join Addison on Maundy Thursday to remain together in vigil from midnight till 1am, remembering Jesus' sad and lonely hour of fear and uncertainty just prior to his arrest. We invite others to join us during this solemn and meditative time. 2006

Starting September 10, the choir, acolytes, clergy and all others who make up the processional at the start of the service will now enter the church through the double doors near the baptismal font. They will proceed down the north aisle to the back of the church and then continue up the center aisle.

All are invited to a simple service of prayers and readings to remember those who died on September 11, 2001, and their families. Representatives of many different faith communities will offer prayers at the service here this afternoon. Tomorrow, on the fifth anniversary itself, the church will be open all day for silent prayer and meditation. There will be a simple eucharist offered with special intentions for those who died. 2006

Two principal projects have been recently recommended by the property and finance committees and approved by the vestry for near-term action. First and most noticeable will be the replacement of the bluestone front steps leading into the narthex. During the winter vandals damaged the steps and railing making entry to the church somewhat hazardous. While we have understood the need to replace the steps for some time, their current state requires immediate action. Now that frost is no longer a concern, reconstruction of the steps will commence. 2007

After the evening liturgy on Maundy Thursday, we begin a prayer vigil in the chapel, which continues until 8:30am on Good Friday. All are welcome to come at any time during the night to pray and meditate. If you know that you can be present for a particular hour, please sign up on one of the sheets in the narthex or outside the parish hall. Capable and knowledgeable parishioners will provide security. 2007

Celebrant Blessed be God: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

People And blessed be God's kingdom, now and for ever. Amen.

Collect for Purity

BCP p. 355

Benedictus es, Domine S 236 (front section of hymnal)

John Rutter

Glory to you, Lord God of our fathers; you are worthy of praise; glory to you.

Glory to you for the radiance of your holy Name; we will praise you and highly exalt you for ever.

Glory to you in the splendor of your temple; on the throne of your majesty, glory to you.

Glory to you, seated between the Cherubim; we will praise you and highly exalt you for ever.

Glory to you, beholding the depths; in the high vault of heaven,

Glory to you, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit; we will highly exalt you. Glory to You!

Collect of the Day

Celebrant Together we pray.

People Almighty and everlasting God, in Christ you have revealed your glory among the nations: Preserve the works of your mercy, that your Church throughout the world may persevere with steadfast faith in the confession of your Name; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

First Lesson: Jeremiah 31:27-34

The days are surely coming, says the Lord, when I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of humans and the seed of animals. And just as I have watched over them to pluck up and break down, to overthrow, destroy, and bring evil, so I will watch over them to build and to plant, says the Lord.

In those days they shall no longer say: "The parents have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge." But all shall die for their own sins; the teeth of everyone who eats sour grapes shall be set on edge. The days are surely coming, says the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and the house of Judah. It will not be like the covenant that I made with their ancestors when I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt—a covenant that they broke, though I was their husband, says the Lord. But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, says the Lord: I will put my law within them, and I will write it on their hearts; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. No longer shall they teach one another, or say to each other, “Know the Lord,” for they shall all know me, from the least of them to the greatest, says the Lord; for I will forgive their iniquity, and remember their sin no more.

Reader      The Word of the Lord.

People      Thanks be to God.

Psalm 119:97-104

William Crotch

The congregation is encouraged to sing the psalm.

97 Oh, how I love your law! *

all the day long it is in my mind.

98 Your commandment has made me wiser than my enemies, *

and it is always with me.

99 I have more understanding than all my teachers, *

for your decrees are my study.

100 I am wiser than the elders, *

because I observe your commandments.

101 I restrain my feet from every evil way, *

that I may keep your word.

102 I do not shrink from your judgments, *

because you yourself have taught me.

103 How sweet are your words to my taste! *

they are sweeter than honey to my mouth.

104 Through your commandments I gain understanding; *

therefore I hate every lying way.

Second Lesson: 2 Timothy 3:14-4:5

As for you, continue in what you have learned and firmly believed, knowing from whom you learned it, and how from childhood you have known the sacred writings that are able to instruct you for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus. All scripture is inspired by God and is useful for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness, so that everyone who belongs to God may be proficient, equipped for every good work.

In the presence of God and of Christ Jesus, who is to judge the living and the dead, and in view of his appearing and his kingdom, I solemnly urge you: proclaim the message; be persistent whether the time is favorable or unfavorable; convince, rebuke, and encourage, with the utmost patience in teaching. For the time is coming when people will not put up with sound doctrine, but having itching ears, they will accumulate for themselves teachers to suit their own desires and will turn away from listening to the truth and wander away to myths. As for you, always be sober, endure suffering, do the work of an evangelist, carry out your ministry fully.

Reader      The Word of the Lord.

People      Thanks be to God.

Gradual Hymn 709 "O God of Bethel, by whose hand"

Dundee

Gospel: Luke 18:1-8

Clergy      The Holy Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to Luke.

People      Glory to you, Lord Christ.

Jesus told his disciples a parable about their need to pray always and not to lose heart. He said, "In a certain city there was a judge who neither feared God nor had respect for people. In that city there was a widow who kept coming to him and saying, 'Grant me justice against my opponent.' For a while he refused; but later he said to himself, 'Though I have no fear of God and no respect for anyone, yet because this widow keeps bothering me,

I will grant her justice, so that she may not wear me out by continually coming.'" And the Lord said, "Listen to what the unjust judge says. And will not God grant justice to his chosen ones who cry to him day and night? Will he delay long in helping them? I tell you, he will quickly grant justice to them. And yet, when the Son of Man comes, will he find faith on earth?"

About the Readings

From Preparing for Sunday http://standrewswellesley.org/worship\_reading.html

Jeremiah 31:27-34 Today's reading comes from a section, chapters 30–31, called the "book of consolation." In it are gathered Jeremiah's oracles of hope for an eventual renewal and restoration for Israel. In this passage, Jeremiah looks forward to a "new covenant" (v. 31). Unlike the old, this one will be written on the heart, which in Hebrew thought is the seat not of the emotions but of the will. This covenant is not new in content, for the Torah, the written law, is not replaced. It is new, however, in the means of its realization. The internalization of the covenant will enable people to keep it. The will of the individual shall become one with the will of God. There will be no need of teachers, for all will know the Lord, not just in intellectual terms but in the Hebrew sense of a close, intense and intimate personal relationship.

Psalms 119:97-104 In this reading, taken from the longest psalm in the Bible, the psalmist expresses his love for God's law or instruction (torah), which is the most trustworthy source of wisdom for right living. By following God's guidance, the psalmist is assured of keeping on the right path to God.

2 Timothy 3:14–4:5 Today's reading stresses the stabilizing role of tradition in the Church, both the teaching handed down through generations in the family and in the Church community, and the written tradition preserved in scripture (3:16), primarily referring here to the Old Testament. Scripture is "inspired by God" (3:16), that is, God's life-giving Spirit has been breathed into it. It is thus a positive source for Christian teaching, useful to refute error, to identify sin, to direct people back to the right path and to sustain them on their way. Christians are to preach the word at all times, in all ways. The situation described in 4:3-4 as a likelihood is in fact already present for Paul (1 Timothy 1:4; 4:7). But in response, the leader is to "do the work of an evangelist" (4:5), that is, of a preacher not restricted to one particular area. He is to fulfill his "ministry" (4:5; literally, his service), the ministry that Christ came to embody and to which all Christians are called.

Luke 18:1-8 This story is found only in Luke. The unjust judge is someone whose concerns are all worldly, centered in this age and characterized by self-interest and evil. The judge's behavior is not commended; rather a comparison is made by arguing in rabbinic fashion from lesser to more: if even the unrighteous judge will bestir himself to vindicate the widow, how much more will God act to vindicate God's elect. Though God acts "quickly"

(v. 8), unlike the judge, God's speed often seems slow to humans. Luke's introduction to the parable (v. 1) shifts attention from the judge to the widow, and from assurance of the speedy second coming to an exhortation to persistent prayer until its arrival, however delayed. In the Old Testament, the widow is the epitome of those who, having no wealth or influence, are under God's special protection.

Healing Prayer

Healing prayer is a widespread ancient tradition in the Episcopal Church and we are making it available at our Sunday services. During communion at the front altar rail, one of the clergy will be on duty at the transept altar to offer healing prayers. Tell the clergy person what you wish to pray for: you can request a prayer for yourself or for someone else. For example, someone might say, "please pray for my husband facing a difficult time at work," or "please pray for my mother facing an operation," or "please pray for my son having a tough time at college." In response, the clergy will quietly and discreetly offer a healing prayer for the situation. — Rev. Adrian Robbins-Cole
